A Year In Our Dallas Jewish Community

We each have stories about our involvement and connection to the Jewish people and our Dallas Jewish community. The Jewish Federation of Greater Dallas is proud to take an active role in supporting those experiences that are most meaningful from Jewish summer camp and day school to preschool and PJ Library. At the same time, we support the life changing and lifesaving services for those most in need in Dallas, Israel and around the world—and we do it with dignity.

Contained in this report you will find information on our financial performance, including the recognition accorded to us by Charity Navigator with their highest rating of four stars. As important, you can read about the profound work the Federation does each day to engage, convene and build our Jewish community in partnership with our beneficiary agencies, congregations and other Jewish organizations. In addition, you'll learn how we are focused on developing the next generation of leaders for our entire Jewish community and raising the necessary funds to support the vital work of those agencies with whom we partner.

Our Federation and community is fundamentally strong, and now is the time to begin planning and implementing the visions for greatness that we all have for our Dallas Jewish community. The Jewish Federation of Greater Dallas is proud to be a partner in this work for all those seeking to contribute resources, talent and time to improve our community for generations to come.

Accomplishments

Partnership 2Gether with the Western Galilee (P2G)

- In July 2012, Dallas launched its independent partnership with the Western Galilee region of Israel with the goal of strengthening ties between Dallas and Israel through people-to-people connections and programs. Hired Tali Dan, Partnership Director in the Western Galilee, to manage the Israeli side of the partnership.
- Defined the mission of the program: To help build and maintain the strong relationship between Dallas and the Western Galilee; to bring Israel alive every day in the Dallas community and build strong personal connections between the two communities; and to work to develop a stronger, more secure, and successful populous and infrastructure in the Western Galilee.
- With the help of consulting firm Golan & Kaye, an extensive ecoscan was compiled which presented current issues in Israeli society, background information on the people and cities of the Western Galilee, as well as non-profit organizations and innovative opportunities in five identified areas of priority:

1. Education
 2. Entrepreneurship and pioneering
 3. Travel
 4. Youth at Risk
 5. Affinities including health care, arts & culture, etc.

Accomplishments

Community Leadership and Programming

- The JCRC coordinated and hosted a City Council Candidates Forum in April 2013, focusing on two Council districts where a new Council member would be representing a large percentage of the Dallas Jewish population. With an audience of more than 200 people, the forum provided an opportunity to hear from each of the candidates on issues important to the Dallas Jewish community.
- Often coordinating with the national Israel Action Network, the Jewish Council for Public Affairs, and others, the JCRC provided ongoing programming on issues pertaining to current affairs and Israel. In May 2013, the JCRC held a well-attended community training event on countering anti-Israel messages and academic boycotts.
- In August 2012, the JCRC partnered with the Anti-Defamation League to convene an annual community-wide Security Conference for leaders of institutions and agencies with law enforcement representatives. The JCRC also partnered with local community organizations on social justice issues and played an ongoing leadership role in the Anti-Poverty Coalition of Greater Dallas.

Relationship Building

- As part of its mission, the JCRC worked to create and solidify relationships between the Jewish community and other faith and ethnic communities in the North Texas area.
- In 2012-13, the JCRC re-invigorated the Presidents and Executive Directors Council, bringing together leaders of Jewish organizations to foster collaboration and coordinated outreach outside the Jewish community on issues of mutual concern.
- The JCRC continued to establish and strengthen relationships with legislators as well as interfaith and interethnic leaders.

In addition to participating in Thanksgiving Square, our interfaith outreach intensified as we made new contacts with diverse community leaders in order to plan collaborative programming.

Public Education Initiative (PEI)

- Public Education Initiative (PEI), a grant-funded project managed by the JCRC, serves Texas students by seeking historical accuracy about Jews, Judaism and Israel in textbooks and curricula. As part of our monitoring and advocacy throughout the current process of adoption of new social studies textbooks in Texas, known as Proclamation 2015, PEI secured more than two dozen edits to the Texas Education Knowledge and Skills Standards (TEKS).
- PEI works with Jewish parents throughout Texas to create networks, raise awareness, and build community support for PEI goals.

Dallas Jewish Community Scan

The Dallas Jewish Community Scan drew honest and thoughtful responses from almost 5,000 individuals, representing one of the largest surveys of a major Jewish community in the country!

Accomplishments

What are Jews in Dallas aware of when it comes to their Jewish options? What perceptions do we have about those options and do we use them? What needs do we have, and are they being met by Jewish service providers? Our community's responses to the scan are shedding light on the answers. Each of the participating organizations received valuable information about their constituencies and where there are challenges and opportunities going forward.

- February through March 2013:
Fifty Jewish organizations were educated and recruited to participate in the scan, indicating their commitment through signed Letters of Understanding.
- April into May:
The scan was drafted and tested using multiple focus groups, while agency databases were collected and refined resulting in 25,000 valid email addresses and new information appended for each agency's use (e.g. age, demographics, contact information, etc.).

- Through May:
The scan was marketed through each of the participating agencies, as well as through targeted media, to drive up participation following the May 27 launch.
- The community's response was unprecedented with more than 5,000 respondents participating.

Our Summary Report to the Community may be downloaded at www.dallasjewishcommunityscan.com.
